

Workers' Compensation

Lawyers in the Workers' Compensation Practice Group provide a broad range of legal services to, and aggressive representation of, employers, insurance carriers, third-party administrators and insurance brokers regarding the defense of workers' compensation matters in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In addition to the more traditional defense of workers' compensation claims related to compensability and disability issues, our lawyers provide legal advice regarding administration of claims, loss prevention, third-party subrogation liens, establishment of safety programs, union negotiations and contract language.

We handle all phases of litigation from the Workers' Compensation Judge level through all appellate boards and courts. Our workers' compensation team includes lawyers with expertise in hearing loss claims and occupational disease claims. We have become active in reviewing and commenting upon proposed rules, regulations and legislation in the workers' compensation area to ensure that our clients' views are heard. We are also available for seminars regarding Workers' Compensation Act amendments, case law updates, regulations, administrative procedures and general handling of compensation matters.

It is our philosophy to provide the highest quality legal representation in workers' compensation matters efficiently, thoroughly and for the lowest possible cost to our clients. Working closely with in-house staff, third party administrators and insurers, we offer training that assists clients in implementing procedures to reduce costs. Once a decision is made to litigate a claim, we aggressively defend our clients' interests in an effort to minimize losses.

Stay Current

Pennsylvania Bureau of Workers' Compensation Claims and Adjudication Forms

News

White and Williams LLP Receives AM Best's "Recommended Insurance Attorneys" Badge
January 16, 2012

Gale White and Lori Kachmar Recognized as Top Women Lawyers in Pennsylvania
August 1, 2011

Publications

Paying Partial Disability? Don't Pay Too Much!
December 14, 2011

Practice Contacts

Anthony P. Salvino, Chair
610.782.4949
salvinoa@whiteandwilliams.com

Related Practices

Labor and Employment

Practice Highlights

- In addition to the more traditional defense of workers' compensation, our lawyers provide legal advice regarding administration of claims, loss prevention, third party subrogation liens, and contract language.
- We handle all phases of litigation from the Workers' Compensation Judge level through all appellate boards and courts.
- We are also available for seminars regarding Workers' Compensation issues.

Workers' Compensation Update
Summer/Fall 2011

Workers' Compensation Update
Winter/Spring 2011

An Employer's Request For Utilization Review of Medical Treatment Is Not an Admission of Work-Related Causation
May 2011

Course and Scope of Employment
April 27, 2011

Credit Against Workers' Compensation Benefits? High Court Says "No" in Response to Furlough
2010

No Diehl: Court Corrects Itself on IRE Process that Caps Workers' Compensation Benefits
April 28, 2009

Gross Injustice? Employer Only Gets a Net Credit Against Workers' Compensation Benefits
March 16, 2009

Employers are Being Told to Establish "The Non-existence of Available Work" for Claimants Before Pursuing a Labor
Market Survey in Order to End Workers' Compensation Benefits
March 13, 2008

Employers are Entitled to an Offset of Pennsylvania Workers' Compensation Benefits When Claimants, Who Have Been Receiving Social Security Disability Benefits, Reach Their Full Retirement Age
January 14, 2008

Return to Work Issues After an Alleged Work Injury

Events

Severance Agreement and Release As Used in Workers' Compensation Settlements
April 11, 2011

Interplay Among FMLA, ADA and Workers' Compensation
May 2010