

Austin D. Moody

Associate

101 Arch Street, Suite 1930 | Boston, MA 02110
Direct: 617.748.5206 | Fax: 617.748.5206
moodya@whiteandwilliams.com

Austin Moody represents insurance companies in complex insurance coverage disputes in state and federal courts.

Austin has experience advising clients on disputes involving a broad range of coverages including general and professional liability, commercial property, subcontractor default, life, directors and officers, and pollution coverage.

While in law school Austin served as a notes editor for the Immigration Law Journal and as an intake volunteer for the D.C. Employment Justice Center Worker Rights Clinic. Austin participated in the Harrison Institute for Public Law Clinic, helping public school districts procure healthy fresh food in compliance with federal, state and local regulations. He also interned with the Federal Immigration Appeals Clinic, helping immigrants seeking asylum, withholding of removal and protection under the Convention Against Torture.

Publications

The Insurer's Duty to Defend Pre-Suit Demand Letters
The Brief | Fall 2019

NY Federal Court Refuses to Consider Extrinsic Evidence of an Insurer's Claim Handling for a Different Policyholder
Insurance Coverage and Bad Faith Alert | August 27, 2019

Interpreting Prior Knowledge Clauses in Claims-Made Policies: When Knowing Too Much Can Hurt You
Connecticut Lawyer Magazine | Summer 2018

Excess Insurer's Duties Clarified by 9th Circuit
L.A. Daily Journal | November 2, 2017

Practice Areas

Insurance Coverage and Bad Faith
General Commercial Litigation

Bar and Court Admissions

Massachusetts
California
Connecticut
New York
U.S. District Court for District of Connecticut

Education

Georgetown University Law Center, JD, 2016
Trinity College, BA, summa cum laude, 2013