Joseph Lee is an associate in the commercial litigation, labor and employment and higher education groups. Joseph focuses his practice on representing businesses in labor and employment disputes. His practice also includes representing clients in commercial litigation matters and complex business disputes.

Joseph routinely advises colleges and universities and provides guidance on personnel policies and procedures, and issues related to contracts and compliance with federal and state laws.

Prior to joining White and Williams, Joseph practiced in the banking and finance group at an Am Law 100 firm, and at a boutique firm in Philadelphia with a focus on financial services litigation.

During law school, Joseph was an editor of the Temple International & Comparative Law Journal, and served as a vice president of the Tax & Bankruptcy Law Society.
