

It's All in the Family: FMLA Requirements in Context of Maternity Leave, Paternity Leave and Pregnancy Disability

PBI's "A Day on Employment Law" (Philadelphia, PA) | September 24, 2019

Counsel Tanya Salgado of the Labor and Employment Group will join select PBI faculty for their Day on Employment Law on September 24, 2019. Tanya, along with her co-presenter Michele Malloy, Esq. of Waste Management, will present the panel, "It's All in the Family: FMLA Requirements in Context of Maternity Leave, Paternity Leave and Pregnancy Disability." Session attendees will learn about the FMLA in the context of maternity leave, paternity leave and child bonding leave. Tanya and Michele will also discuss strategies for avoiding FMLA retaliation claims and review developments in FMLA case law.

PBI's Day on Employment Law is a one-day spin-off program featuring selected sessions from PBI's Employment Law Institute. The full program will begin at 9:00 AM and qualifies for 5 substantive CLE credits, as well as 1 ethics CLE credit. To view the full agenda and register to attend, please visit the PBI website.
