

An Employment Law Primer for Solo Practitioners and Non-Employment Law Attorneys

Bar Association of Lehigh County (Allentown, PA) | March 10, 2020

Each year, new laws are passed that affect the workplace and keeping up with them can be difficult, especially if that is not your primary practice area. If an employer doesn't handle the matter properly, it could open itself up to serious liability.

In this session, Counsels George Morrison and Jeff Stewart will provide an overview of employment laws on discrimination, harassment, wage payment, minimum wage, required leaves of absence and the latest developments in employment law.
