

White and Williams Participates in New York Cares Day

October 20, 2018

On Saturday, October 20, White and Williams lawyers and staff volunteered at the New York Cares Day For Schools for a fun and fulfilling day of brightening classrooms, hallways and futures. The group was assigned to HS 594 K Gotham Professional Arts Academy, in Brooklyn, where they cleaned up and painted a teacher's lounge and tree planters outside the school.

This is the third year that White and Williams volunteered alongside thousands of New Yorkers in one of 35 high-need public schools across the five boroughs.

The Gotham Professional Arts Academy school was one of 70 public schools that were revitalized on this city-wide day of service. For additional information, visit New York Cares.
