

Cherry Hill Office Participates in Camden County Bar Association's Adopt-A-Family Program

December 28, 2017

White and Williams once again participated in the Camden County Bar Association's Adopt-A-Family Program to make the holidays special for an underprivileged family in the City of Camden.

Employees in the Cherry Hill office provided their assigned family with clothes, shoes and toys for the family's three young children as well as presents for the parents. In addition, the family was provided enough food for a holiday dinner. This year the Adopt-A-Family program received enough support to "adopt" over 106 families.

White and Williams is committed to continuing the firm's deep involvement in community organizations and critical efforts such as Camden County Bar Association's Adopt-A-Family Program.
