The Philadelphia Bar Association kicked off Law Week 2015 on Monday, April 27, with Legal Advice Live! Local lawyers gathered to provide free, in-person confidential legal advice on a broad range of topics, including personal injury, landlord/tenant law, divorce and child custody matters, wills and estate planning, and employment law. The event was coordinated by the Young Lawyers Division.

A dozen White and Williams associates volunteered their time at South Philadelphia High School, assisting more than 20 members of the community.
