

Jared Johnson Joins White and Williams as Partner in Philadelphia

8.26.21

White and Williams is pleased to announce the addition of Jared Johnson as a Partner in the Tax and Estates, Corporate and Securities and International groups. Jared will reside in the Philadelphia office.

Jared, an attorney and Certified Public Accountant, provides tax representation and guidance on complex tax laws and disputes, corporate transactions, reporting, asset protection and cross-border issues. He regularly assists in compliance with the Internal Revenue Code as well as the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). Jared works alongside high-net-worth business owners throughout the business lifecycle, from incubation and startup through growth and dissolution on a range of tax issues as well as corporate matters, including planning, formation, governance, drafting and reporting, partnerships and joint ventures.

Fluent in French, Portuguese and Spanish, Jared draws on his language skills to advise clients on matters related to cross-border transactions. He holds a certificate in dispute resolution and works with clients to settle disputes and, when necessary, advocate on their behalf before the IRS and Department of Labor in examinations and Tax Court litigation.

Prior to joining White and Williams, Jared was a principal in Offit Kurman's Philadelphia office.

PRACTICE AREAS

Corporate and Securities

International

Trusts and Estates